Customer Reviews

This is a great little book for new or young pastors and also for those of us who want to help our pastors succeed in our churches. This is a first person account from the 1950's, perhaps a simpler time, but its advice still applies today.

This is an inspiring book about how a closed congregation was re-opened because of the work of a learning on the job young man.

Dr. Towns' book is a delightful, must read for every Pastor. As an Assistant Pastor, I can relate to several of the stories that Dr. Towns tells concerning his early ministry in his first church in Savannah, Georgia. His stories of his first funeral, first wedding, and how he and his congregation painted "the whole church in one day" are humorous and inspiring. As with his "Stories from the Front Porch", Dr. Towns is both inspiring and practical. At the end of each chapter, he points out several principles that he learned from the events in the chapter. I highly recommend it for Pastors and laypersons as well. Barry D. Black Assistant Pastor-Joy Baptist Church Hull, GA
