Children, Parents And The Law: Public And Private Authority In The Home, Schools, And Juvenile Courts (Aspen Casebooks)

Synopsis

When you purchase a new version of this casebook from the LIFT Program, you receive 1-year FREE digital access to the corresponding Examples & Explanations in your course area. Now available in an interactive study center, Examples & Explanations offer hypothetical questions complemented by detailed explanations that allow you to test your knowledge of the topics covered in class. Starting July 1, 2017, if your new casebook purchase does not come with an access code on the inside cover of the book, please contact Wolters Kluwer customer service. The email address and phone number for customer service are on the copyright page, found within the first few pages, of your casebook. Developed from Part III of the successful Family Law casebook by Harris and Teitelbaum, this shorter, very teachable book is ideal for child-focused courses that deal with the juvenile justice system or children as dependents. Features: Problem exercises throughout the book • some short and others longer and more complex Interdisciplinary approach incorporates information from related social sciences such as psychology and sociology Balanced perspective and coverage of issues, with no perceptible liberal or conservative bias in tone or selection of topics Ample coverage of juvenile courts makes this an ideal choice for Juvenile Justice and Juvenile Court courses as well as courses that center on parents' and children's rights and obligations Logical organization, clear structure make it suitable for a variety of teaching styles New to the Third Edition

Customer Reviews

Not received as described.

binding is severely broke on the book. Yes I realize it is just a rental but the front cover is coming off as a result of this. I am writing this now because I haven't found a way to get in touch with the company I rented it from and do not want to be accused of messing the book up.
